Alpha Kappa Lambda DIAMOND

FOREWORD

 LETHEIA KAI LOGOS, the motto of the youngest of college fraternities, means "Truth, and the Word." It was suggested to the members of Los Amigos Club (founders of the new organization), by Professor Charles Mills Gayley, of the University of California. Alpha Kappa Lambda, taking a firm stand on the ideals thus expressed, desires to add one more name to the list of fraternities at present openly devoted to that progress in scholarship and character which has been so notable of late thruout the country. When, as time goes on, her purple and gold flies at other universities, she will always be found working shoulder to shoulder with the older fraternities—always "one of them" in the advance toward high scholarship, clean morals, and Christian brotherhood.

AN INSTITUTION WITH AN IDEAL

IF INTEREST to all fraternity men is the speech of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California at the formation banquet of Alpha Kappa Lambda. Below are a few paragraphs selected from his address, which considerations of space prevent us from printing entire:

"I have often been asked if there were fraternities from which a local organization could get a charter, and I have always said, 'Why don't you start one of your own? Aren't there Greek letters enough? Why import everything from the East?' And I repeat now, 'Why may not Alpha Kappa Lambda start on its conquering way from Berkeley and sweep Eastward across the continent?' * * *

"It is not going to be an easy matter to overturn you. You have had principles, and you have stood by them. Not all Greek letter fraternities have these. Most of the clubs and fraternities have only social or semi-literary purposes. Some have ideals, and some have none. You have ideals whose compelling force will bring you back to your standards when you get too proud. You will feel the impulse to take a freshman because of what his grandfather was. You will become socially ambitious. There will be classes where you will get a bad lot of men. But in the end your ideals will bring you back and you will try to go to the front, not in social matters, but in scholarship, service and character. * * *

"The time is coming in the American university when the Greek letter fraternities will be forced by public opinion to give an account of themselves. If they are not rendering a good account, they will have to go. If they are a damage, they will have to go. If they are snobbish, they will have to go. But on the whole, the fraternities are rendering a service today. They house the students, and give them a social life. I don't know what we would do without them. I should be able to say that in a legislature truthfully. Order is a fundamental test of usefulness. Many of our chapter houses are carelessly kept, and there is much waste of time. It is at present a distinct difficulty to study in some of them. You have stood first in scholarship, and I don't want to see you go down because you have pasted some Greek letters over your Spanish ones. * * *

"I have said a few of the things foremost in my mind. I am proud to be with you on this occasion, to be a witness of the emergence of a new fraternity in our midst—a national fraternity starting in Berkeley—an institution with an ideal!"

THE FUTURE OF ALPHA KAPPA LAMBDA

By Harry Stanley Clark, Former President of Los Amigos

THE purpose that Los Amigos had in mind when it changed from a local club to a national fraternity, was twofold,—first, that it might become affiliated with college men in other universities, and second, that we might broaden our influence in the college communities in which our chapters may be located.

The future of Alpha Kappa Lambda in other communities, depends upon the ability and wisdom with which the mother chapter selects other chapters at the beginning, and upon the united wisdom of all the chapters when we are well established. In my opinion, we should confine our extensions to colleges in the Western states, at least for the first few years. If opportunities to go East should arise after we have become thoroughly established, it will then be time seriously to consider such extension. For the present, we must be guided to a large extent by the nearness in point of location, of the petitioning body to the mother chapter, and the character of the men who undertake to stand sponsor for the fraternity in the proposed new chapter.

The foundation for the future success of Alpha Kappa Lambda must be laid upon a rock bottom. The mother chapter should so order its house, that it can keep in the closest possible touch with the new chapters, and awaken in them the desire and ambition to BE Alpha Kappa Lambda, as well as of it.

To exert an influence in their respective college communities, the members of each chapter must take their part in the activities of their college. They should say to the college public, in acts, not in words, "We are your friends, believers in the best that is in you, your willing aid in times of need, and, above all, your fellow men in all your undertakings."

Whatever we do, let us get members who are real "true blue" college men, who believe in the religion of the heart, and not of the ritual. They are the ones who accomplish things—who influence others. Alpha Kappa Lambda believes in the common fellowship of mankind, and in the inherent good in all. Let us cultivate the good, and forget the bad. With goodwill toward every man, goodwill, alone, will be returned to us. My wish is that Alpha Kappa Lambda prove beyond doubt, its "bigness," and that its mission and work may be crowned with success.

FRATERNITY

By John Laurence Seymour

In groups about the hearth reclined,
 We watch the crackling flames:
 Good fellows all, in heart, in mind—
 And brother's ties we claim.
 As mount the flames, our spirits rise
 In laughter and in song;
 Why should we heed the time that flies?
 Come, Mirth, and linger long!

True Alpha Kappa Lambdas we,
 Inspired by common aim:
 To work for our fraternity—
 Be worthy of her name.
 And when the flames subside and die,
 And shadows hang full low,
 We quiet comrades prophesy
 Her future in the glow.

Then as each fellow's gaze intent
 In pensive reverie
 Upon the coals is fixed, swift rent
 By Fancy, wild and free,
 The bonds, that oft his hopes confine,
 Are burst, and he descries
 Ambition's pageant—his success,
 Revealed before his eyes.

On flow the years in endless tide,
 The goal at last is won;
 Again we meet the hearth beside,
 While sets the western sun.
 The flames of youth have waned indeed;
 The shadows hang full low;
 But, brothers still, we all can read
 A history in the glow.

A LETTER FROM PROF. W. B. HERMS

Prof. Herms was elected a member of Alpha Kappa Lambda last spring, and is now President of the Board of Directors. He has won his way into the hearts of all the members, giving largely of good advice and good fellowship.

BROTHERS in Alpha Kappa Lambda—Before me lies a card signed by the worthy Registrar, requesting me to "scribble a few lines (or many) on the 'Broader Aspects of the New Fraternity.' Truly it is a new fraternity, a fraternity not before attempted among the Hellenic societies of any university. What the future will be can only be determined by its membership. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he," can be applied in large measure to our group of men; as are the men, so is the fraternity. As is a body composed of many cells, each different in its individual make-up, each performing its own specific function, giving continuity, acting as an organic whole when pervaded with a healthy life, so is the fraternity an organism made up of individual fellows each performing his individual function, but acting in unity when filled with the spirit of Alpha Kappa Lambda. What the larger fraternity is to be depends upon deeds of the individual members—pull apart the individual cells of the body, there will then result both decay of the body and decay of the individual.

The fraternity can only be known through its membership, for this is the only tangible evidence. Whether other chapters will be formed in other sister institutions will depend entirely upon how strong is the appeal of the individual. The eyes (mortal eyes) of other fraternities, other clubs, the faculty and students are watching YOU—not Alpha Kappa Lambda. The spirit of Alpha Kappa Lambda has been infused into your very life—what will be the result? If after a year or years of healthy growth the effect upon you has been beneficial, then will the fraternity have been successful and then will others seek the life of Alpha Kappa Lambda, and then will the eyes of men be turned upon the fraternity—then you will have proved yourselves worthy.

The spirit of Alpha Kappa Lambda lacks not of strength to enfold in its mystic arms, men of possibilities, and to develop them into strong men, of service to God and man, but it depends upon you, each individually, whether or not you develop this spirit to its fullest.

My picture for the future is not one of rapid growth like unto the mushroom, but rather that of a strong, slow growth, like unto the oak,—not comparable in years for its fruition, but in strength. I see in this picture, the early rising of a chapter house in Berkeley nestled close to the Alma Mater; I see, shortly, charters granted to new chapters (perhaps two, perhaps three) on the Pacific Coast;

then, and perhaps earlier than we expect, one or more new chapters will grow up in the central west. The growth eastward will be difficult, for it is against the tide. But strong, wholesome western ideals born on California soil, kissed by California sunshine, nurtured by the dews and rains from California skies—well, surely you can't bottle them up and ship them East that way. I forgot that this was to be but a scribble. Anyway I wish you all a most prosperous New Year—the year 1915.”

ALPHA KAPPA LAMBDA FRATERNITY INCORPORATED

By Ralph D. Taylor, Secretary

FOR the information of the Alumni members of Alpha Kappa Lambda fraternity the Secretary of the Alpha Kappa Lambda corporation has been asked to make a brief statement. At present we find ourselves working under two entirely separate organizations, the fraternity and the corporation, and it is the purpose of this statement to explain the nature of the corporation and to endeavor to enlist your co-operation.

At the time Los Amigos became a fraternity, in order to protect ourselves against infringement upon the use of our new name and also to place ourselves in a position to transact any business which a national organization might be called upon to transact, it was found necessary to incorporate. This we did with the assistance of Attorney Clifton E. Brooks, U. C., 1910, who acted as our counselor and drew up our Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws.

For various reasons, especially business considerations, it was not deemed advisable to make all members of the fraternity members of the corporation. For instance, chapters in other universities would find it more to their advantage to have their own corporation so that they could transact their own business. Hence the corporation and the fraternity were not combined and instead of one, we found ourselves two totally different organizations. All members of Los Amigos were invited to join the fraternity and all had the privilege of joining the corporation. All the active members of the fraternity did join the corporation as did a few of the more interested Alumni.

At the first members' meeting of the corporation, in April, 1914, the following board of directors and officers were elected: Directors—W. B. Herms, F. F. Bloomer, O. L. Brauer, F. W. Oatman and R. M. Hagen; treasurer, O. P. Smith, and secretary, R. D. Taylor. W. B. Herms was elected president of the Board and R. M. Hagen, vice-president. Since that time F. W. Oatman and O.

L. Brauer have resigned from the Board, having moved too far away to attend its monthly meetings, and B. D. Moses and A. A. Jungermann have been elected by the Board to fill the vacancies. This board of directors is the business head of the corporation, having power to transact all corporation business, and is held responsible for the doings of that body. It holds regular monthly meetings on the second Monday evening of each month, and may hold special meetings at the call of the president. The corporation holds an annual members' meeting on the second Monday in April, at which time the work of the Board is reviewed and a new Board of Directors elected.

It is the wish of the board of directors to make the corporation a strong body, and to help in every way possible the advancement of the fraternity. This they can do only with the hearty co-operation of every member of the mother chapter of Alpha Kappa Lambda. They feel that all members should, and do wish to enlist in the effort to make Alpha Kappa Lambda the best college fraternity in America. Hence they invite all alumni members of the fraternity to join the corporation. There is a membership fee of ten dollars which goes into the treasury of the corporation and which can be used by the board of directors to promote the best interests of the fraternity. Five dollars of this fee has already been paid by all members of the fraternity in the form of an "installation assessment," and membership in the corporation may be obtained by the payment of the additional five dollars. We now have thirty-four members in the corporation but should have twice that number.

The Secretary will be glad to answer any questions in regard to the corporation which members of the fraternity may wish to ask. We trust that all alumni members of the fraternity will find it possible to affiliate themselves with the corporation, and will notify us of their desire to do so.

THE FALL SEMESTER

REGISTRATION Day at the University of California, August 17, 1914, found twenty-five of us back and ready for business, or pleasure. Six "grads" who just couldn't stay away, took the place of the freshmen who, in accordance with the plans of the fraternity, were not to be admitted to active membership or initiated, until the following semester. During the first semester, however, we elected four men of other classes, all of whom have since proved their worth in many ways. Robert Emil Cuendett (Agr. '15), of track fame; Justin Percival Follette (S. S. '15), prominent Y. M. C. A. worker; Knowles Augustus Ryerson (Agr. '16), a pomology expert of international recognition; and John Laurence Seymour (S. S. '17), author of the poem which appears on another page. These are the four new members, already old by reason of service to the fraternity.

The Constitution Committee (Geo. Howden, '13, chairman), reports that although its work is far from finished, the framework of the new constitution has been formulated. The rituals of initiation and installations comprise most of the details yet to be worked out. According to the revised plan, complete power is to remain with the mother chapter until two others have been chartered. The committee has handled a difficult task skilfully and deserves the praise of all.

The Pin Committee reports that a design has been adopted—a simple monogram—and that most of the active members have already been supplied with pins. They are very pretty and are well liked. Plain gold pins, without jewels, are to be worn by freshmen, while others may take their choice between half pearls and crown pearls on the central letter. We hope to receive orders from more of the alumni, all of whom should be wearing their fraternity pins.

The Dance Committee arranged a very successful "informal" the night before the "Big Game." Several faculty members, with their wives, were present, and the whole affair had a touch of correctness that was very pleasing.

The Guest Committee has kept our door open to many welcome visitors, making the term a most enjoyable one in that respect. A feature of this committee's work has been the "Fireside Meetings," where we have had opportunity to listen to many worth-while speakers.

Numerous other committees have done good work, and progress has been made in many things. Interest has been very keen throughout the term, in the subject of scholarship, and all have done their best to put the name of Alpha Kappa Lambda on the "list," for the first time, in a place where we all may be proud of it. The reports for the fall term held both pleasure and disappointment for us. Pleasure because our average grade was 2.089; and disappointment because our own temporary lack of Freshmen prevented Alpha Kappa Lambda from being given first place on the fraternity list. With the addition of our Freshmen, who all promise well in this direction, we expect to be well in evidence this spring. Delegates from the fraternities and house clubs have voted in favor of the publication of the names, in alphabetical order, of all organizations standing above the average, beginning with next term's records. May Alpha Kappa Lambda always be well up on that list!

THE DIAMOND

Published by the members of the Alpha Kappa Lambda Fraternity, 2428 College Avenue, Berkeley, California. Volume I, Number 1, January, 1915. Committee in charge: R. M. Hagen, '15, President; Bryant Hall, '16, Registrar; H. R. Bergh, '13, Business Manager; J. P. Follette and R. I. Daley.

 N PRESENTING this, the first "Diamond," to the alumni and friends of Alpha Kappa Lambda, the committee in charge has taken a step which it believes will be for the best interests of the order. One of the great problems of all fraternities is the retention of that close co-operation between alumni and active members, which is so necessary to our success. This problem cannot be solved by the agency of pamphlets such as this, alone, but it is hoped that by affording more complete news of alumni and active members, and an opportunity to voice our hopes and ambitions, the "Diamond" will prove of much assistance.

The "Diamond" is the natural outgrowth of the "alumni letter" of Los Amigos, first circulated in 1909 in the form of a single multi-graphed sheet. The club grew and the alumni increased so rapidly in number that it was found necessary gradually to enlarge the scope of the semi-annual letter, until last year a six-page well-printed folder was hardly able to contain all the news.

Some day Alpha Kappa Lambda is bound to have a periodical of its own, probably a quarterly. As yet, however, the "Diamond" is entirely experimental, and its continuance depends solely upon the desires of the alumni in the matter. We are sending it out, keenly conscious of its many defects, trusting that our brothers will, in true fraternal spirit, overlook them, and see only the good-will which prompted the effort. If by means of this publication, we can tighten even a little the bonds which unite us all in brother-love, and can win the respect and good-will of our readers, whoever they may be, our efforts will have been well repaid.

LOS AMIGOS

 HE HISTORY of Los Amigos dates back to the Christmas vacation of 1906-07, when a small group of men decided, on the advice of the President of the University, and with the co-operation of several members of the faculty, to organize a new house club at the University of California. Last April, seven and one-half years after its organization, its total membership numbered seventy-two, of whom one, Ludwig Rehfuess, beloved by all who knew him for his sincerity and high ideals, had been called by death.

Los Amigos not only grew and prospered, but successfully maintained an enviable record in scholarship, and always undertook its share in the activities of the student body, and the advancement of the best interests of the University. It is unnecessary to enter into the details of the change from a club to a fraternity at this time, as the history of Los Amigos will be fully covered in a separate report.

It is with a feeling akin to filial devotion that we look back on our mother organization, Los Amigos, and we think of her always with the greatest reverence. As the infant Alpha Kappa Lambda increases in stature, the story of the organization and growth of Los Amigos will assume an added interest, and, with this in mind, Brother Herman Ritchie Bergh undertook the task of arranging the "history" in permanent form. This work is now complete, and will soon be officially adopted by the fraternity. Then we shall have set up a lasting memorial of the ideals of "Los Amigos!"

SHALL THERE BE ANOTHER "DIAMOND?"

DO YOU want to see another "Diamond?" It's up to you entirely—if you want it you can have it. But it means for the present that every alumnus must not only be willing to pay, but must pay two dollars dues, instead of one dollar per annum, as heretofore. Of a majority heard from in reply to a circular sent out, asking for their opinion on the subject, only two were not in favor of the "Diamond" proposition. Some even suggested that the assessment be made five dollars. However, one dollar per semester, providing all pay, will enable us to issue a little pamphlet such as this, semi-annually, which should suffice for a modest beginning.

We urge that each member not already heard from write the Registrar, stating his views on this most important matter. We also trust that, in case the mother chapter votes in favor of continuing the "Diamond," which it undoubtedly will, if the majority of the alumni wish it, and notices are received to that effect, there will be a whole-hearted and enthusiastic response from every alumnus, accompanied with a check for the extra dollar to pay for the publication of the next "Diamond."

Not more than two-thirds have paid their dues as yet, and it is hoped that they will send a check at once. If you can send at the same time, your order for a pin, so much the better. Such orders should be accompanied with the class numerals which are to be engraved on the pin. Address all communications to the Registrar.

DIAMOND "SPARKLES"

According to an exchange, the loyal graduate when he leaves college goes, not out of his fraternity, but into it. This is an excellent thought for all of us. The majority of our members are alumni, and so much of our future is in their hands, that after all, they are the fraternity. It follows that we can scarcely make much progress unless the alumni stand solidly behind us and work shoulder to shoulder with us. We hope in these pages to suggest various practical forms of activity which this co-operation may take, both from the viewpoint of the resident members who are, of course, in closer touch with the immediate needs of the fraternity, and from the outside friendly point of view of the alumni. Just now the most obvious ways for the loyal alumnus to prove himself loyal are four, as follows: First, he may keep in constant communication with the active members; second, he may keep an eye open for good prospective members coming to college from his home town; third, he may be prompt in remitting his dues, and fourth, he should constantly wear his fraternity pin, and so conduct himself as to do it honor at all times.

"I have been impressed that no chapter can be kept on the crest if the alumni are not interested in it. So a practical bit of advice is to make use of all possible channels for free communication with your alumni."—Prof. Richardson.

Alpha Kappa Lambda has been fortunate indeed, in the friends it has had at the outset, to help guide its course. The kindly comment on our movement in Banta's Greek Exchange and the invaluable assistance of such men as Prof. L. J. Richardson (Psi Upsilon), and Mr. Clifton Edgar Brooks (Delta Chi), have aided us in no small degree in overcoming the obstacles in our path. We welcome heartily any suggestions or criticisms from other fraternity men who are interested in the success of this new national fraternity.

Nothing definite has as yet been done to secure a new home for us when our lease on our present location expires in June, 1916. The Building Committee predicts, however, that it will not be long before we move into a home of our own building.

The policy of Alpha Kappa Lambda with regard to expansion tends to be rather conservative. Probably no petitions will be considered until next fall at any rate. Every proposed addition to the chapter roll will be given most careful consideration, to the end that our ideals may always be in safe hands. In this let our motto be, "Lente sed certe progredimur."

The records of the "Black Book" offer many perplexing problems to the Registrar. An effort has been made this year to standardize the entries, but the book necessarily passes from hand to hand so often that it is difficult to get any system into general use. If every alumnus would send in, preferably in September of each year, a plain white 3x5-inch card with the news of what he is doing, together with both his temporary and permanent address, the work will be much easier.

Athletic, military and even social activities have left their traces in the "Black Book," but never until now has that equally important activity, high scholarship, been considered worthy of permanent record. The member whose attainments are more purely scholastic, may now, according to a resolution recently passed by the fraternity, have his term record made more truly an account of his work by the addition of the words, "Honor Student."

This will not be competitive, but may be attained by any member whose average grade, divided by the number of units carried, gives a quotient equal to or less than one-tenth. We are proud to advise our readers that last term's records show that no less than four members reached this very excellent standing. The "Honor" men were: Laurence Maxwell, '17; Laurence Seymour, '17; Fred Holmes, '15, and Kenneth Houston, '17.

"I saw a new scheme worked out in a recent visit at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Chicago," writes Victor Randolph. "Simply stated, there is but one sleeping room in the house, located on the top floor. It is large enough to accommodate fifty fellows or more, dormitory style. The advantage of this arrangement is that each individual study room is less encumbered with furniture—no bed—and thus becomes a true study room. By this plan, one never has to sleep in the same warm and often stuffy atmosphere, which usually pervades the room where one or two both sleep and study.

Likewise, in the morning, if one wishes to study, he has a room free from the atmosphere and appearance of the bedroom in which to do so. If the separate study rooms are built large enough to accommodate three instead of two, this system is not any more expensive than the ordinary plan of two in one room, in which they both sleep and study. In a large house it becomes a more economical and satisfactory method of housing."

Considerable doubt surrounds the question of what numerals should properly be affixed to the names of alumni who graduated in classes other than those in which they began. All who come under this classification are requested to attach the numerals which they prefer to use to their names in signing communications to the Registrar until some regulation is agreed upon.

All alumni desirous of keep in close touch with the Greek Letter world are advised to subscribe for "Banta's Greek Exchange," published by the Geo. Banta Publishing Co., Menasha, Wisconsin. The Exchange is a quarterly (price $1.00 per annum), which gives a summary of what the fraternities are doing and contains many articles of interest to all fraternity men.

George Howden, Ralph Taylor and "Goats" have engaged rooms together and will batch next term. Three "grads" ought to be able to live peacefully, and have some time to study—but you never can tell what will happen when "Goats" is around.

Although no members "flunked out" for the spring term, two of the boys will not be back. Lawrence Seymour and Harold Waltz have decided to stay at home to assist their parents in their work.

HONORARY MEMBERS

At the Formation Banquet the following members of the faculty of the University of California, were installed honorary charter members of Alpha Kappa Lambda Fraternity:
 PROF. J. T. ALLEN, Ph.D., Mosswood Road, Berkeley.
 PROF. H. C. BIDDLE, Ph.D., University cottage No. 1.
 PROF. W. B. HERMS, M. A., 1424 LeRoy Ave., Berkeley.
 PROF. R. S. HOLWAY, M. S., 2401 Le Conte Ave., Berkeley.

Extra copies of the "Diamond may be had by payment of 15c per copy. Send your orders to the Registrar, Bryant Hall, 2428 College Ave., Berkeley.

WHAT THE ACTIVE MEMBERS ARE DOING

GRADUATE STUDENTS

GEORGE GOATLEY, '10, is taking some work in Agriculture. He repeated his famous offer of a dinner to the two best scholars, last term.

ALBERT JUNGERMANN, '14, is making investigations in agricultural education, with a view towards obtaining his M. S. degree.

GEORGE HOWDEN, '13, is specializing in History. He and Albert are both members of Phi Delta Kappa. George spent last year ranching near Dinuba.

LEROY WALTON, '12, is preparing for a Teacher's Certificate. Roy says he is really enjoying college, now that he is married.

RALPH TAYLOR, '13, has announced his engagement to Miss Edith Siller of Berkeley. Ralph is president of the Architectural Association.

SENIORS

"SPEED" HAGEN made such a good president that we just had to re-elect him. Roy helped to establish agricultural clubs in the high schools of the state last summer.

"BILL" JUNGERMANN "made" Phi Delta Kappa last fall.

FRED HOLMES and "BILL" SOLOMON, our two "docs" are boarding this year with some German folks and now "take German with their meals."

HOWARD GILKEY took out "leave" in the middle of the term to become Assistant Superintendent of Landscape Design at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, where he remained until early in February. He is now in Los Angeles, Asst. Director of Los Angeles "City Beautiful."

"BOBBY" CUENDETT, having made his big "C" in the half-mile, is a member of the Big "C" Society. He is also a member of the Golden Bear, Alpha Zeta (Agricultural Honor Society), and the Forestry Club, of which he is president.

JUNIORS

"BOB" DALEY is with us again, after having spent a year in the employ of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, San Francisco.

KNOWLES RYERSON received a signal honor last term, when he was elected a member of the Royal Horticultural Society of England. There are only seven members of this society in the United States. Knowles is house manager for the spring semester.

HARRY DOBBS is again registered in college, after having spent last year teaching.

"ART" McCURDY captained our baseball team, going bravely down to defeat in a three-inning game in the first round of the Inter-Fraternity Series. Score, Delta Upsilon, 5; Alpha Kappa Lambda, 3.

"RENTA" HALL was re-elected to the office of Alumni Secretary for the spring term. By the new constitution, this office is hereafter to be known by the name of "Registrar."

SOPHOMORES

"KENNY" HOUSTON is to be treasurer next term, and in that capacity will be the manager's right-hand man.

"WARNY" NORTON was captain of the Sophomore Basketball Team, which won the inter-class championship. He plays on the 'Varsity this spring.

ELMON COE has been elected secretary for the spring semester.

MAXWELL, SEYMOUR and HOUSTON won for the Sophomores the honor of having the best average grade. Their own averages were, respectively, 1.17, 1.25 and 1.65.

ALUMNI NEWS OF INTEREST

CLASS OF 1908

CHARLES J. BOOTH is head of the Department of Agriculture, Chaffey Union High School, Ontario.

FRANK F. BLOOMER is still sales engineer for the General Electric Company with headquarters in the Rialto Bldg., San Francisco.

JOE TAYLOR is teaching in the Hollywood High School, Hollywood.

CLASS OF 1909

GAIL CLELAND returned recently from Japan, with his wife and baby, Robert, who speaks Japanese as well as English. They will be in Berkeley for some time.

BEN MOSES had real cause for thanks on Thanksgiving in 1914. On that day, a son, Allen Edward, was presented to him. Ben is teaching engineering at the University.

"PETE" (otherwise known as Floyd Barnum), visited the house accompanied by his wife, early in the semester. He is teaching mathematics at Santa Monica in the Polytechnic High School.

LEONARD H. DAY, ex '09, has been reappointed Horticultural Commissioner of San Benito County.

HARRY OSBORNE, ex '09, is principal of the Muscotah, Kansas, High School.

CLASS OF 1910

Married, Dec. 29, 1914, at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul, Boston, ALLEN H. KIMBALL, Miss Helen Louise Wakefield. Allen is Dean of Architecture at Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa.

LEO BRAUER has put in the claim of being the happiest man on earth (claim contested by Rhine J., Osman H., Dick B., et al). Married Miss Virginia Graves, May 30, 1914. He is teaching at Selma.

BRYANT WILSON and Miss Grace Jones were married in Berkeley last summer. Bryant now has his B. D. from Yale, and is a real minister, being pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, Long Beach.

HAROLD A. SAVAGE is rising into fame and fortune in the practice of law at Fresno. His "Haa-vuud" training is serving him well. "Hal" is also superintendent of the Sunday-school of the First Congregational church in that city.

H. RITCHIE BERGH is manager of the Commercial Research Bureau of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, with present headquarters in Los Angeles.

ERNEST S. ALDERMAN is now in South Carolina, in the capacity of Junior Highway Engineer, Office of Public Roads, U. S. A.

OSCAR PERRINE, ex '10, is farming beans and growing oranges at Riverside. Farm life seems to agree with him splendidly.

H. E. ROWE, ex '10, is still superintendent of the Granite Rock Co., Watsonville, according to last report.

CLASS OF 1911

RHEINHOLD JUNGERMANN is teaching in Los Gatos High School. He and his wife have already become very popular there.

HOMER BOYDSTON is still with the Old National Bank, Spokane, and a member of the Amateur Athletic Club of that city.

SHERMAN BROWN is teaching in the high school at Sacramento. Sherman also has charge of the S. H. S. track team.

ROY WENK, ex '11, likes British Columbia so well that he can't get away. He is engineer for the Vancouver Island Power Co. of Victoria, B. C.

GEORGE C. JENSEN is now a leading factor in the life of Elko, Nevada, where he is teaching. The tenth silver spoon was presented to Miss Alice Jensen, born May 30, 1913.

CLASS OF 1912

RALPH McCURDY, at the Porter Hotel, San Fernando, is with the State Railroad Commission. He is on the joint committee of that body on Inductive Interference.

OSMAN HULL is principal of the Del Norte County High School, Crescent City. Married July 22, 1914, to Miss Evelyn Huston.

FRANKLYN W. OATMAN is with the State Highway Commission, Sacramento. Frank has been doing good work "boosting" Alpha Kappa Lambda in every way possible. He is also president of the Loyal Sons' class of the First Presbyterian church.

BRUCE MARTIN, ex '12, according to last report, is still with the South San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation, Fresno.

"DAVE" DURST is principal of the high school at Susanville.

WALLACE BOGGS is now in the employ of Bonte and L'Hommedieu, Civil Engineers, Oakland.

ARTHUR REYNOLDS, ex '12, is in Grass Valley.

STANLEY BUTLER, ex '12, is associated with his father in the title and abstract business at Yreka.

RAY BUTZBACH is teaching in Woodland High and is also taking an active interest in the athletics of the high school.

CLASS OF 1913

HARRY CLARK was up from Coronado for the "Big Game." His story telling has improved wonderfully, strange as that may seem. He is in the wholesale hardware and plumbing supply business, San Diego.

LLOYD HALL, ex '13, has established a subscription agency in Berkeley, specializing on the promotion of the circulation of the Curtiss and Crowell publications. He writes that his trip East last summer was more profitable than ever. He visited Vic Randolph at Milton, Wis., and had a most enjoyable time.

FRANK M. BOOTH passed the State Board of Optometry examinations in September, 1914, and has a certificate to practice as a registered optometrist, in which business he is now engaged in San Francisco.

CLARK SMITH, ex '13, is farming near Clovis, Fresno County.

CLASS OF 1914

FRANK LENZ writes: "At present I am the Immigration Secretary of the San Francisco Y.M.C.A., having been advanced to that position on Sept. 1, 1914. I have charge of the work in the Ferry Building office as well as the meeting of the ships from the Orient. At the present time we have organized sixteen English and citizenship schools in various parts of San Francisco. The work is intensely interesting."

GEORGE HILL is practicing what he always personified—"civil" engineering, with temporary headquarters at Byron.

"EDDY" SMYTHE is teaching in Alameda. "Eddy" and "wifey" are as happy as happy can be.

AND OTHERS

HAROLD WALTZ, '16, will be at Sonoma during the rest of the year.

J. LAURENCE SEYMOUR, '17, will be in Los Angeles next term.

HARRISON L. HAMMOND, ex '15, is in the employ of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division of Valuation.

F. EARL BETHARDS, '17, is in Portland, Oregon.

VICTOR RANDOLPH, '15, represents the Curtiss publications at Milton, Wisconsin. He is also attending the University there, but expects to return to Berkeley next fall.

T. E. DALEY, '17, is absent on leave for the year 1914-15. He is teaching school at Carnadero, Cal.
