A MESSAGE FROM THE NATIONAL PRESIDENT

BUILDING BACK

As this is written, we are in the midst of another school year, a year that is seeing Alpha Kappa Lambda building back to pre-war strength. Eta, Beta and Iota are back on the active list. Iota and Kappa are in their own homes, bought by necessity and with the help of the National Fraternity. Alpha, Beta and Gamma either have or soon will have remodelled their houses. Eta chapter is still in its old house on Maple St. but has plans for construction of a new home in the not-too-distant future. Thus for the first time in our history all of the active chapters are living in houses either owned outright or being purchased. This is a healthy situation; one that gives both the actives and alumni a real pride of accomplishment and something to strengthen our future.

Yes, and Delta is now being re-organized.

So much for what we have done. It is not enough. We still have inactive charters for Theta Chapter at the University of Washington, for Zeta at the University of Michigan, and for Epsilon at the University of Wisconsin. These Universities are now full and overflowing with students. The time is ripe to reopen these chapters. What are you the alumni in these areas doing to develop interest to reopen them? We are depending on you to take the lead.

Another big job lies in the field of expansion to new campuses. Here too we may never have another opportunity like the present. The National Fraternity does not have a lot of money to put into this program. We are depending on the loyal help of alumni and of members who may be in school now at universities or colleges different from where they were initiated. We have succeeded in obtaining the services of Gus Bleisner, Eta alumnus, as Expansion Secretary. Helping him will be Sidney North, Editor of Locos, and Harry Hollis, former National President. These men will do their part. Will we do ours? Let's get on with this job of Building Back and Going Forward.

THE GOLDEN RULE IS STILL GOLDEN*

By J. C. Penney, Founder, J. C. Penney Company

It is my belief that Golden Rule principles are just as necessary for operating a business profitably as are trucks, typewriters, or twine. Many will deny this and will cite examples seeming to prove that it doesn't pay out. I can do that too.

When I was in my 20s, I purchased a butcher shop in Longmont, Colorado, for $300, which I had saved while going to school and while working at my first job in a store. The best and most profitable customer of the shop was the leading hotel of the city. My meat cutter advised me, "If you want to keep that business, you will have to buy the chef a bottle of whisky each week. He does the buying."

I accepted the advice, without much thought, and bought the customary bottle of liquor. But after I had done so, a strange feeling came over me. I asked myself, "Were he living today, what would my father say?" Very well I knew the answer—for Father was opposed to the use of intoxicating liquors. And was it not fair to my other customers to do for one what I would not do for them? Obviously not—so I determined then and there that never again would I bribe that cook, or anyone else, to get business.

I lost the trade of the hotel and because of that I also lost the butcher shop and the $300 I had saved penny by penny. Up to that point, practicing the Golden Rule apparently didn't pay out. But I have always been thankful that I did not yield to questionable expediency. Had I done so I might have become a successful butcher, but I would probably never have found my lifework in a wider field.

But I take no credit for that crucial decision. My father was responsible for it. He was a farmer and a preacher. As a very young boy, I had understood that he worked at two different callings, but only gradually did I come to see that my father, in his own mind, did not recognize any real difference between them. He plowed, he planted, he harvested, and he applied his industry with just the same earnestness that he preached his sermon. Thereby he impressed me with the fact that he had one ministry: to serve.

That lesson was further impressed on my mind when I got my first job in a retail store. I had an inborn liking for handling and selling things, and my father, just before he passed on and realizing death was near, said, "Jim will make it. I like the way he has started out." I had occasion to think of his words later when other salesmen were taking customers away from me because they could make special prices to some. I had to deal with men to whom thumb-on-the-scale manipulation was a fine art, misrepresentation of products was cleverness, and dishonest advertising and labelling were "tricks of the trade."

But if "let the buyer beware" was the motto practiced by some businessmen, it was not characteristic of the majority. In these days when so many look to Government to regulate trade practices, we easily forget that businessmen themselves led the way. For every example of shady or fraudulent dealing that has come to my attention in a long career, I can cite scores of examples of manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers who voluntarily put the Golden Rule to work in their relations with employees, competitors, and customers.

We have made great progress in business practices. If we are to consolidate past gains and to advance, we who are in business must give time and effort, which are not always immediately productive of profits, to the training of our successors. We have this responsibility to the vocation which gives us our livelihood—but we should be glad to do it for the sake of the young men themselves. I sincerely believe that we who employ should build something into a man instead of constantly taking something out of him. So I shall offer this advice:

Do not primarily train men to work. Train them to serve willingly and intelligently.

Do not train men merely to obey orders that they may or may not fully understand. Train them to study the job, to develop perception of what is to be done, then to turn loose upon it their understanding, initiative, and effort.

Do not train men merely to be as your shadow. Train them to bring as much of their ability into action as they can reach, deep down in themselves. Encourage them to believe that there is in themselves a mine pocket full of riches. You can, by your careful and thoughtful training of them, make them wealthy in developed ability.

Countless thousands of men are stranded in business routine. In each one of them may be a latent ability which when developed would be of immeasurable profit to the employer. There seems to be a fatal impression with many businessmen that to hire a man as he is means to keep the man on as he is. But it is wrong to look upon any man as being an immovable, unimprovable human being.

I was fortunate, as a young man, in getting employment with a retail store that advertised itself to be responsible to the customer, not in a general way, but in the specific spirit of the Golden Rule. This was to me inspiring. It generated energies and developed talents which I was called upon to exercise when, after an apprenticeship, I was considered worthy to take over the managership of a store. When I was given the privilege of buying a one-third interest in the store, I discovered that management opened responsibilities that I welcomed as a challenge. I began to take count of my new responsibilities, mastering them as I could. As a result of my study, I reached the conviction that I could master them only in accordance with Golden Rule principles I had seen practiced by my father.

Young men today should have similar opportunities to prove and improve themselves. Employers should train them with a view toward partnership participation in the business they help to create. It is my experience that employees will respond to the stimulus of fairness and liberality. Partnership participation makes a man dig into himself to quality. He becomes eager to master the technique of a job greater than the one he has.

Developing men brings as much—even more—satisfaction as making profits. H. G. Wells, the late distinguished English author, puts it this way:

"Success has absolutely nothing whatever to do with a man's reputation, or material possessions, or social prominence.

"True success is the relation between what a man is today (that is what he has finally become) and what he could have become had he made the most of his ability and opportunity through all the years of his working life."

It is an astonishing contrast that Mr. Wells makes in the two conditions:

- (1) not what any one of us is in the later years of life, but
- (2) what we could have become had we done the utmost with all our ability, understanding, and control directed upon a worth-while ultimate purpose.

This means that a young man starting out can so increase and direct his effort that it will carry him far beyond the usual time of men's retirement. Let me say this of retirement: No man should live a business life of 20 or 30 years and then retire into nothing. Along the way he should have provided for himself something into which to retire; something worthwhile as an adventure in benefits and service.

Success in business does not depend upon genius. Any young man of ordinary intelligence who is morally sound and not afraid to work should succeed in spite of obstacles and handicaps if he plays the game fairly and keeps everlastingly at it. When I see a youngster identifying himself so closely with his work that the closing hour passes unheeded, I recognize the beginnings of success. He is doing more than is required of him—that is, more than his employer requires of him, but not more than his conscience requires.

Here are six searching principles which I believe form the essentials of business success. I offer them in the hope that they will be passed on to young men and women just starting their business careers:

1. Be prepared. Know all about your business—a little more than anyone else knows. You will, as a rule, achieve what you are prepared for.

2. Work hard. The only kind of luck that you are justified in banking on is that based on hard work. This means sacrifice, persistent effort, and dogged determination. Growth is never by chance: it is the result of effort.

3. Be honest. By this I mean the finer honesty of purpose that will not allot you to give less than your best; that will make you count not your hours, but your duties and opportunities; that constantly urges you to enlarge your information and to increase your efficiency.

4. Have confidence in men. A man's value increases when he receives responsibility and feels that he is being relied upon. One must exercise commonsense and good business judgment, of course, but believing in your self and trusting in your fellow man pay off.

5. Appeal to the spirit in man. One of the wisest men who ever lived said, "The letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life." Every organization in which I have been associated has proved that if its members are motivated by an indomitable desire to succeed, the organization will succeed.

6. Practice the Golden Rule. It sums up all I have said—and here it is as it was enunciated on the hillsides of Judea nearly 2,000 years ago: "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

REPORT OF MEETING OF NATIONAL INTERFRATERNITY CONFERENCE

New York City, November 29 and 30, 1946

By Dr. H. George DeKay, National Secretary

I AM PLEASED to make the following report on the meeting of the National Interfraternity Conference which was held at the Commodore Hotel in New York City on November 29 and 30.

Attendance: The Conference was attended by all members of the Interfraternity Conference. The meetings began on Friday morning at 10 A.M. and continued until Saturday noon. AKL was represented by your National Secretary.

Meetings: The general meeting was used for reports of various committees and for recommendations from the subcommittees. The conference was divided into various discussion groups and your secretary was most interested in the one on Expansion.

Proceedings: Your secretary placed an order for 12 copies of the proceedings to be distributed to each of the active chapters and the national officers.

Reports Pertinent to AKL. 1. The educational adviser reported that there was more and more opposition to the fraternities because of certain activities and it behooves each fraternity and its officers to see that the fraternity houses are not overcrowded and are kept clean and sanitary and as free of fire hazards as it is possible to make them.

Several institutions in the east, Cornell in particular, have banned fraternities on their campus. The National Interfraternity Conference went on record as opposing liquor in the fraternity houses.

2. Public Relations: The most serious charge that is brought against the fraternities at the present time is that we are undemocratic. The charge is based on the fact that we are a selective group. The fraternity has no intention of surrendering its right of selection. Rushing should be a personal affair between the candidate and the fraternity.

3. Chapter House Discussion. "Because of the urgency of public questions now and the peculiar interest of war veterans in such questions, it may be hazarded as a guess that motivation for interest in public affairs and their discussion may latently be present in fraternity undergraduates." It was the consensus of opinion that such discussions were extremely valuable to fraternity life. These discussions could be held at Chapter meetings, dinner meetings or called meetings.

Expansion: There is a crying need for expansion. Some of the larger fraternities have gone on record as opposing any additional chapters at present. There is a definite opposition to large fraternity membership. It was recommended that the limit be placed at 50 per house unless the house was built to accommodate more.

It was the feeling that no new Greek Letter Fraternities are to be admitted to the NIC at present. I attended this particular meeting on Expansion and after the discussion your secretary approached the leader and stated that the NIC could do the small fraternities a great deal of good at present by sending the names of the different colleges who were asking for new fraternities so that the smaller chapters could expand. He stated that he would send me the names and addresses of such schools in the near future. The entire group agreed that now is the time to expand and that care must be exercised in the addition of chapters at the present time because they should continue to exist after this crisis.

After listening to the many discussions and reports at this conference your secretary wishes to make a few suggestions for all of your consideration.

Suggestions:

1. That we set as our goal 15 new chapters over a long range plan and add not less than 2 new chapters a year until this is accomplished.

2. That the National Expansion Secretary be authorized to appoint a committee of not less than 5 men to act with him. These men to be strategically located for easy access to any school.

3. That the National Expansion Secretary be given all pertinent information about expansion and AKL and be authorized to write letters to all Deans of Men concerning the possibility of bringing our fraternity to the campus of the mid western and western schools. Perhaps an additional assistant secretary on the far west and the mid west be appointed to assist him in the work.

4. That a steering committee be made to aid and assist the national expansion secretary. This committee could conveniently be past presidents who should have a real interest in the National Affairs. This committee could assist in many ways. It would speed up the work of expansion and give the national secretary a chance to go ahead with plans of charters without waiting for the complete action of all chapters which is always a slow process.

5. We need new alumni chapters and some way of reactivating those that are now chartered and supposed to be active. We should charter some new alumni chapters. I suggest one at Indianapolis, Indiana and will start the ball rolling if it is OK with you Gus.

6. We need to become more tolerant and less conservative if we are to expand. I do not mean to lower any of our standards but I do believe that we should attempt to consider more carefully all doubtful cases and where there is a good chance of success to go ahead.

Fellows, I am convinced of one thing upon my return from the Conference and that is that we must expand if we wish to continue as a National Fraternity. We have been a junior member for 16 years and we are now the only junior; all others have either merged, been absorbed or expanded to 10 chapters. I believe that we must expand if we continue to exist.

GUSTAV H. BLIESNER BECOMES NATIONAL EXPANSION SECRETARY

THE national executive council of AKL has appointed Brother Gustav H. Bliesner as National Expansion Secretary, to fill the vacancy in that office and to serve until the next national conclave.

Gus has assumed his new job with real vigor and determination, and has started contacts to lead to developing new chapters.

Professionally, Gus is an engineer and is affiliated with the Farragut College and Technical Institute, Farragut, Idaho.

Best wishes, Gus, in your important AKL assignment.

IN MEMORIAM

Harold D. Smith, Lambda '22

ALPHA KAPPA LAMBDA'S most prominent alumnus, Harold died January 23, 1947, at his farm near Culpeper, Virginia. A one-time Kansas farm boy, he served as Director of the Budget of the United States for seven years. He resigned last year to take the second highest post in the World Bank, and had most recently served as acting president.

Upon learning of Harold's death, President Truman said, "I am terribly shocked. He was one of the ablest men in public service." Mr. Truman recalled how much he regretted losing Mr. Smith's service as Director of the Budget when he was drafted for the World Bank post.

Harold had suffered from a heart ailment for several years. The fatal attack came so suddenly, he was dead before medical aid could reach him.

He was considered a financial wizard by many members of Congress. He went to Washington in April 1939 at the request of President Roosevelt, with plans to "help out" for no more than eighteen months, but stayed on in one of the world's toughest financial jobs.

He worked his way through high school and the University of Kansas, with a degree in electrical engineering. A fellowship then took him to the University of Michigan for a master's degree in public administration. Before going to Washington, he was director of the budget for the State of Michigan.

Harold was a member of the old Ochino Club at Kansas and was initiated into AKL at the installation of Delta Chapter, June 2, 1922. He became president of Delta chapter, and maintained thorough interest in the fraternity throughout the years that followed.

Our fraternity mourns the death of this distinguished brother.

CHAPTER NEWS

By FRANK BROWN, Chapter Reporter

THE most recent report from Alpha chapter was published in the Fall, 1945, issue of THE LOGOS, and indicated that the house was then occupied by non-fraternity men and members of another fraternity, whose house was at the time loaned to the University for women occupants.

On February 27, 1946, ten Alpha men moved back into the chapter house to open post-war era. There were eight active members and two pre-war pledges (who were given practically active status because of the small size of the membership). BOB BUCKWALTER was elected president, and GORDON JONES was house manager.

Six new men were pledged during the term, but one dropped out due to financial difficulties, so the chapter finished the semester with fifteen members and pledges. This may seem to indicate a laxity in rushing, but we now know that the men were wise in proceeding slowly, as enough more actives returned in the fall to nearly fill the house.

During the summer months, ten men remained in school and lived at the house, but no cook was hired and no formal rushing was carried on. The fellows who were here, however, painted all of the upstairs rooms, and accomplished many other odd jobs around the house preparatory to the extensive redecoration which was done downstairs.

In the months of August and September, the chapter room, library entrance hall, and dining room were completely repainted. Alterations were made in the chapter room, the pillars between the main room and the west alcove were removed, new drapes were installed, and the glass in the french doors between the inside rooms was replaced with wooden panels similar to venetian blinds. The dining room table was refinished, and forty new chairs purchased. A new bookcase was built into the library.

At noon on September 15, 1946, the house officially reopened for the Fall semester with twenty-seven actives and neophytes. Following the formal rushing period, during which we pledged nine inside men and one outside man, the formal initiation for the neophytes from the Spring semester was held October 6. JERRY ELBERT, Marysville; JACK EVERETT, Oroville; PAUL JOHNS, Berkeley; DICK McCURDY, Berkeley; TED WINSLOW, Oroville; and BARNEY WILEMAN, Cutler, were the six new initiates.

An unprecedented occurrence was the election of BARNEY WILEMAN to the presidency and the selection of TED WINSLOW as house manager, since both of these men were new initiates. However, they had both contributed tremendously to getting the house back on its feet during the previous Spring semester and Barney had been a pre-war pledge.

The other house officers for the Fall term were: vice-president, LYNN SCHLOSS; recording secretary, GORDON JONES; corresponding secretary, FRANK TIMMERS; pledge master, PHIL LATHROP; social chairman, ABNEY DANA; chaplain, "Bo" DROBISH; scholarship supervisor, NEIL CAMPION; labor king, BOB TIMMINS; publicity chairman, FRANK BROWN; DEC chairman, BOB BUCKWALTER.

We have had a successful semester both financially and socially, and it remains to be seen how well we will emerge scholastically. (Final exams for the Fall semester are from January 27 to February 6).

Our social program this Fall included the traditional pledge dance, Big Game Open House the day of the big game, followed that evening by a formal dance and midnight buffet supper at the chapter house, several radio dances, two "date" luncheons, and a stag songfest one Saturday night.

Alummites

DR. HAL JOHNSON, '44, and wife Robin presented us with a future AKL, Gregory Harold, on December 28. Hal and Robin are living in Oakland, since he is still in the Navy and on the staff at the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital.

BILL RHODES, '29, and his wife brought their folkdance record collection to the house on January 11 and we all learned the intricacies of the Square Dance and Virginia Reel, not to mention some dances that I cannot spell.

PORRY JOHNS, '17, extemporized for us at the formal initiation banquet, when our regular speaker was unable to attend.

ART HOLMES, '44, BLEN HUGHES, '47, and JIM WHITAKER, '47, are among our members who are attending school but are unable to participate actively because of marital ties.

HOWARD PETERSEN, '46, is attending Medical School in San Francisco, and we saw him often on Saturdays in the Fall. He is a faithful football fan, since he played on the Varsity himself in '44 and '45.

BILL McCAMPBELL, '43, and his family have moved into a new home in Concord. MAC is employed in Oakland.

LT. NEIL ELLIS, '42, shipped over into the Navy as a regular, and is now studying at the Naval Academy. Congratulations are in order for him and his brand new wife Harriet. They were married at the Annapolis Chapel December 21.

BERT CORONA, '43, and wife Marjorie presented the world with a new daughter, Barbara Elaine, January 6, 1947.

DR. HOWARD HOLMES, '44, and his wife and year-old daughter are living in San Francisco as Howard is located at Franklin Hospital.

BETA

WITH more than 50 per cent veterans, with every room filled to capacity, Beta chapter returned to normal after a very tenuous existence during the war years. Returning members found the house in the best possible shape after having been repainted inside and out, re-wired, repaired and generally reconditioned after the somewhat rough treatment it received at the hands of non-members while the university was running the fraternities.

Thanks to the efforts of the board members, all of this was accomplished and new furniture was obtained. Typewriter desks and chairs were secured to replace worn and missing equipment. The living room furniture was all cleaned and negotiations are now underway to secure a new pool table to replace the plowed field that the old table has degenerated into.

Autumn Social Season Successful

AKL, like all other fraternities, was anxious to get back into the social life of the campus. All of the members worked together to get the house in order and on October 5 we had our first dance, a closed fireside, with spiced cider and doughnuts for refreshments. The house looked fine and everyone had a swell time.

A corporation dinner was due on October 15 so it was decided to combine a little pleasure with business. We started a bit earlier and held a banquet before the meeting. Many old faces re-appeared and much time was spent recalling the olden days of AKL. The dinner was superb. Anyone who was there will testify that Mrs. Bromley is still the best cook on the campus.

On October 26 we had our biggest party. We had received many letters from alumni asking for a get-together. We chose the night of the USC football game. Again the dinner was excellent. There were so many attending that buffet style serving was necessary. After dinner we had a dance which went over swell.

Before the Big Game Gaieties we had a date dinner which was a gala affair—what with candlelight, good food, and fair ladies. After dinner the entire house attended the performance in a group.

That concluded our social activities for Fall Quarter.

(The social report was submitted by PETE DALEY who has done a knock-out job as social chairman.)

New Board President

On October 15, HAL MORENO was elected to the post of President of the Board of Beta chapter of AKL. CARROLL BRADBERRY is new secretary; JACK

HARRIMAN, treasurer, with DR. CLYN SMITH and house president BILL TAYLOR completing the board.

The house was very appreciative of the preceding board which had many extra problems to cope with due to the war. DR. D. L. BASSETT and DR. RAYMOND HARRIMAN were presented desk pen sets in appreciation of their work in keeping the house going.

Officers

BILL TAYLOR was chosen to preside at the dinner table and mete out fines to erring brothers who slip into the vernacular, preside at house meetings, gather with the heads of the other tongs to work out problems affecting the health, safety and happiness of their members, and to bear the imposing title of president of Beta chapter of AKL.

RUBEN MOECKLI gets to do all this when jolly, pipe smoking Taylor isn't around by virtue of his office as vice-president.

CORT VAN RENSSLAER is in charge of putting the pearls of wisdom down on paper, and Bob Wallace is corresponding secretary.

In the strictest honorary positions are RAY SANDERS, song leader; and PETE DALEY, social chairman. STEVE KAHN and RUBEN MOECKLI are in charge of the rushing program. BILL ALFONTE is house manager and AUB SEED has the job of keeping the house on the ball as senior counsellor.

Our Far Flung Members

The sun never sets on our brothers scattered around over most of the known world.

WALTER RADIUS seems to most perfectly exemplify the fact that the world has shrunk more than somewhat. In working for the State Department he made three trips to Europe in 1946, one to the United Nations meeting in London, and two to the Council of Foreign Ministers in Paris. But he reports great difficulty getting out to Paly from his Washington home.

REIDAR FORSEN is on Guam in connection with the Army Motion Picture Service.

DICK STRICK is in Soerabaja, in the Netherland East Indies, working for Standard Oil and getting shot at from time to time in the Indonesian war for independence from the Dutch.

DAVE NARVER is out engineering somewhere in the middle of the Pacific.

BOB DOFFLEMYER, now ranching in Exeter, recently announced his engagement to Margaret Cutler, a Visalia miss.

GEORGE FARRIER, while not living in some exotic land, has done very well none-the-less. Besides running the Hayward Public Library, he has found time to raise a good sized family. He has three children, ages 10, 8 and 1½.

JIM EMERSON is now in the Yale School of Divinity.

AL DRURY is engaged as a newspaper correspondent in Washington, D.C.

GLEN MCINTYRE paid us a surprise visit recently. He is now Director of Research for Ferro Enamel Corporation, Cleveland, Ohio.

GAMMA

By JAMES H. WOLTER, '49,
Chapter Editor

DAD'S DAY last Fall was made all the more enjoyable as the Fighting Illini turned in a smashing victory over Ohio State on November 16 as the next to the last victory needed to clinch the Big Nine title. After the game a Dad's Day banquet was held at the nouse at which the AKL dads were introduced and later the chapter entertained with several AKL songs.

The last social event before the Christmas holidays was the Christmas dinner-dance on December 20. BILL EYGABROD, social chairman, was in charge.

Four additional old members are expected back for the Spring semester—WALLIE MULLIKEN, DON HECHT, DICK SOLEM and FRANK TRIFILIO.

At this writing, currently underway in the campus intramural program is water polo. AKL athletes beat Cosmopolitan for the first game, 6 to 0, and lost to Delta Phi, last year's IM champs, 4 to 0. However, we bounced back to win from Chi Phi by 3 to 0.

Some of the AKL men who saw Illinois beat Northwestern at Evanston and thereby win the first Big Nine football title in two decades were BOB ROOT, BOB and WALT KARHOW, FORREST ORR, DICK ANDERSON and HOWIE SHUMAN.

Homecoming was like old times at the chapter house before and after the game. Maybe they didn't all belong to AKL alumni, but there were more cars parked around 401 than almost ever before. Most alumni arrived Saturday morning, visited with each other and had lunch at the house. After the game the house was crowded with alumni, members, parents and friends. Following the annual banquet, a business meeting of Gamma alumni and undergraduates was held.

Dean Blair Honored

A portrait of Dean JOSEPH CULLEN BLAIR, past national president of Alpha Kappa Lambda, was recently unveiled on the U. of I. campus, and members of the chapter ushered and assisted with the reception which was held in connection with the ceremony.

Painted by Prof. C. E. BRADBURY, the portrait shows the noted horticulturist in academic robe. He wore the gold hood of the College of Wooster, from which he received an honorary doctor of science degree in 1920. The local newspaper said, "His portrait is a fitting tribute to a great leader to be placed in the College of Agriculture halls for future generations of Illini to see.

Alumni Items

JOHN STROHM, '35, who gave a campus talk on his trip to Russia last fall, keeps adding new laurels to his journalistic career. JOHN wrote six stories on Russia, carried by 930 newspapers in the United States and Canada, and given a good play in Newsweek. His address is 7728 Saginaw Avenue, Chicago.

JAMES DEPLER, '36, reports: "Was separated from the Army in February '46 and have been with Gauger and Diehl (public accountants) Peoria. Address: Route 2, Washington, Illinois.

GEORGE E. POTTS, '29, is treasurer and business manager for McCormick Theological Seminary, in Chicago.

In Rantoul, RONALD W. MEEKER, '33, 103 N. Frederick, is band director of the high school and grade school bands. He is married and has a son, JOHN, age 5.

IRV. PEARSON, '22, writes: "Helped organize World Organization of the Teaching Profession, at Endicott, New York, 28 nations represented. BILL BOUTWELL, '22, attended deliberation (in mid-October) as representative of Scholastic Magazine. The new organization, the first of its kind in the teaching profession, is dedicated to world-wide promotion of public education, international understanding and peace." Irv's address is 100 E. Edwards, Springfield, Illinois.

MARVIN E. DENEKAS, '32, 505 University Avenue, Apt. 63, Rochester, N.Y. is naturalization examiner for the U. S. Department of Justice.

WENDELL R. TASCHE, '24, is still with the States Relations Division of the Soil Conservation Service. Address: 305 Newport Avenue, Washington, D.C.

HARRY B. HOFFMAN, '22, is president of Montana Association of Agricultural Instructors. Address: 619 S. Ouster Avenue, Miles City, Montana.

GEORGE E. HUNT, '40, Rockford, Illinois, reports the birth of a son, Thomas Allen Hunt on October 8. He adds: "Would have named him Bill but was afraid he'd be too much of a wolf like Bill Boyd."

DELTA

AFTER several years of inactive status, Delta chapter is being reestablished at the University of Kansas. It is anticipated that about twenty men will be ready for initiation in May, with house operations expected to begin next Fall. This reorganization work is under the direction of Brother CLAYTON M. CROSIER, former National Expansion Secretary, who is now on the faculty of the university. More news from Delta in the next issue.

ETA

By RALPH TRAVIS, News Reporter

WE LOOK back over the first semester of 1946-47 with a feeling of pride in the developments in Eta chapter.

As previously reported, we reopened second semester last year after having been closed during the war. Last winter we did little to the house except to clean it up and make necessary repairs. This year, however, we really went to work on it. The majority of the members came back a week before school started and we went to work completely redecorating the living room, dining room and cook's quarters.

During "rough week" the pledges repainted all the study rooms. Also we had one of the old davenport remade and purchased some new furniture for the house.

This year we have had somewhat of a new experience in the house, as no doubt all the other chapters have, that of having a large percentage of ex-service men in the house. Of the twenty-four men in the house at the beginning of the year, seventeen have returned from one of the branches of the service to finish their education.

In an effort to build up our house to the pre-war numbers we have carried on an extensive drive to obtain new members. However, we have not lowered our ideas of good AKL material and pledged only fellows whom we thought would be of real benefit to the fraternity. Sunday morning, December 15, we held an initiation for our pledge class. We are very glad to have the following fellows as new members: WARREN DURHAM, ROBERT ALBOUCQ, ROBERT CONGIE, DOUGLAS SARGHET, RICHARD SEVER, DON ROSS, and MORRIS KINCHELOE. Because of necessary absence, VERNON ROGERS was initiated at a special ceremony, January 19. We are proud of all of these new brothers.

Architects drawing of proposed new home for Eta Chapter of Alpha Kappa Lambda at Washington State College. Construction is expected to begin in 1948 on a choice site owned by the chapter.

On December 29, Brother BURTON WILLIAMS took Miss Laverne Cuff as his bride. We extend best wishes to them for happiness and success.

Our officers for the spring semester are: president, GEORGE RYAN; vice-president, BOB LAGERGRIN; and House manager, WALLY JONGEWARD.

From the Iota Informer Edited by JACK CRUPPER

AFTER three years of inactivity, the AKLs are back again on the Kansas State Campus, and are now well established with an optimistic future.

Last summer, through the efforts of three actives and several interested alumni, and with the guidance of Professor HARRY M. STEWART, we purchased the house which was formerly the College Club, hired a contractor to supervise the repairing, and secured enough furniture to begin operations. The house was the only suitable available one in town and is quite satisfactory, now that it has been repainted and put in shape. We have thirty-two men in the house, of whom sixteen are pledges.

Our house lacks room for recreation, the basement being small and unfinished, but our alumni group plans to raise money to have it made over to accommodate our snooker table.

Social Activities

We started our social year with varied activities. A picnic with the Alpha Delta Pi pledges started many a blossoming friendship. We then took our turn at the hour dances with various sororities.

With gay spirit and in full swing with the holiday greetings, we managed to put over a colorful Christmas party here at the house. The coming of warm weather brought on a bright array of sweaters at our Sweater Party with our charming and lovely Mother Mac playing hostess.

All of this has kindled our social interests to a high degree so, with a fitting finale, we are having our Spring formal on March 29. Our decorations should be surprising and the music will be by the old maestro, MATT BETTON.

Membership

The close of the Fall semester brought an end to the college careers of ALVA BANDY, Cottonwood Falls, and PAUL SCHROEDER, Lorraine, not to mention marital bonds for PAUL RAYMOND ADEE also joined the married ranks during the Christmas Holiday vacation.

Scholastically, we are doing fine, with the aid of STANLEY LINDGREN, who received Phi Kappa Phi Recognition for his outstanding Freshman work, and LLOYD SMITH, who was elected to Sigma Tau and Pi Tau Sigma recently.

GEORGE SMITH and JERRY BROOKS were members of the Wildcat football team and currently RAY ADEE and JIM SEAY are vying for honors on Coach HAYLETT's track squad. The chapter almost copped the Intramural crown in basketball, but failed in the clutch, so we are now trying to annex the Volleyball championship.

The men of our chapter who are now on the Hill here at K-State are:

Actives

LLOYD SMITH, Great Bend; RAYMOND

Pledges

Sports

Participation in intramural sports has found the AKL's entering every event. We got off to a bad start when the football season started the sporting competition. Although we fought hard for every game, when the football season ended, the chart showed us near the bottom of the standings, with four games lost and one won; the only win being over the AGR's.

The next event found no distinguishing horseshoe players in the house, but several first round games were won in the tournament.

Basketball showed the AKL's with one of the best teams on the hill. Certainly it was the tallest team, with an average height of about 6'2½" on the first team squad. We were leading the group of five fraternities, being undefeated until the final game found an off night for the team. That game was lost by one point, making the final group standings at 3 wins and one loss. Since another team in the group had the same standing, a play-off game was matched to determine the entry in the all school tournament. That game ended the AKL's basketball season when our team was defeated by a very close margin. An interesting sidelight is that the team that beat us in the play-off went on to win the school championship.

The Alumni

News from the Alumni trickles in every day and, no doubt, more information will be available in the future. If you have not written us recently, please do so. We want to hear from you and want you to know that we are interested in what you are doing.

KAPPA

By RAY B. LARSON, Corresponding Secretary

DURING the summer of 1946, thirteen fellows lived in our newly acquired chapter house at 417 Waldron Street. Under the inspiration and leadership of ROGER WEATHERSTON, then president, more house improvements were accomplished and the house was filled with necessary items to accommodate thirty men for the fall term. During the latter part of the semester we were fortunate in acquiring Mrs. Florence Smith to serve as both a housemother and cook. We put the kitchen in shape for her and fixed up two rooms on the main floor for her living quarters. Even though it was too hot to study in the summer, we attained a 4.40 accumulative house index for the term.

A Boost to Thirty

The fall semester of 1946 brought quite a change in Kappa, in that thirty fellows were once again living as a fraternity. The group included several pre-war actives and six new pledges. Seven actives have their wives on campus. As a result of the fall election of officers, RICHARD KILPATRICK became president; BILL NARIGAN, vice-president; BOB SHELLEY, secretary; RAY LARSON, corresponding secretary; and BART HINKLE and SANDY WOLIN, co-rush chairmen.

The semester was started right by wholehearted participation in the football pep sessions. The art committee, JIM DENISON, PAUL BRINDUSE and RAY LARSON, turned out some tremendous posters for the home games. Our biggest venture was in the form of an aircraft tow-target sign, 60 feet long, which we all worked on in every spare minute for nearly three weeks. Due to circumstances beyond our control (a broken starter in our PT-17) it never had a chance to fly for the Indiana-Purdue game. If it accomplished nothing else it helped bring the boys closer together as a fraternity.

Social Activities

During the Homecoming week-end, we held an open-house for our returning alumni and two informal dances. At the Christmas season, we had our annual Christmas party for six children from the Carey Home, and after the party, "FANNY" FARNSWORTH and his wife held an open house to celebrate the coming vacation. About midnight of the same night we gave a Christmas serenade for three sororities. SANDY WOLIN, with his tireless efforts as a songleader, is still doing his best to put us "on the map" as far as singing goes.

Other social activities have, of necessity, been limited due to our lack of dining facilities for a large crowd. This we intend to remedy with trade dances and house dances. In fact, we have planned a formal dinner for before the Inter-Fraternity Ball.

Improvements

The outstanding house improvements the fall semester were two new gas furnaces, new storm windows, new steps and window frames for the basement, replastering of the ceiling in the back room, six new dining tables and a new chair and davenport set. Besides these, a new radio-phonograph has been ordered and the contract has been let for painting the house.
